I'm trying to see if a column from one table is matching the name of a column from the other, and if so, return the column. For example, I have a table called Person that has columns 'Name', 'Age', and 'City'. I have a table called Address, which has columns 'Street', 'City', and 'State'. I'm trying to return all the columns from Person if the column 'City' from Address matches the column 'City' in Person, if it finds a match, return the columns 'Name' and 'Age'. This is what I have so far: SELECT p.Name, a.Street, a.City, a.State, p.Age, p.City, a.ZipCode FROM Person p INNER JOIN Address a ON p.City=a.City AND p.City IS NOT NULL INNER JOIN Person p2 ON a.ZipCode=p2.City AND p.City IS NOT NULL This is returning all the rows from Person because the City column on Person is different from the zip code on Address. I'm looking for a query like this: SELECT p.Name, p.City, p.Age, a.Street, a.City, a.State, a.ZipCode FROM Person p INNER JOIN Address a ON p.City=a.City AND p.City IS NOT NULL INNER JOIN Person p2 ON a.ZipCode=p2.City AND p.City IS NOT NULL A: The problem
